DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Applicants had requested the Examiner to indicate acknowledgement of a claim for domestic priority under 35 U.S.C. 119(e) in the Amendment filed on 9/1/2004. If Applicants wish to claim the benefit of an earlier application, Applicants must meet all of the requirements set forth in the appropriate statues and rule (35 U.S.C. 119)(a)-(d), (f), 35 USC 119(e), 120, 121, and/or 365 and 35 CFR 1.55 and/or 37 CFR 1.78). See MPEP 201.11 and 201.15 for more information on the requirements. When an applicant submits a benefit or priority claim, the Office provides an acknowledgment on the official filing receipt. The Applicant may also check PAIR. It is not required for the Examiner to provide another acknowledgment.

Election/Restrictions

- 2. Newly submitted claims 19-23 are directed to an invention that is independent or distinct from the invention originally claimed for the following reasons: original claims 1-10 were directed to a first invention of a device for positioning a reflective optical probe to a measurement site, which is classified in class 600/344. New claims 19-23 are directed to a second invention of a pulse oximetry system, which is classified in 600/323.
- 3. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention II has separate utility such as pulse oximeter that is attached in a number of ways including a finger clip. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

4. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Since applicant has received an action on the merits for the originally presented invention, this invention has been constructively elected by original presentation for prosecution on the merits. Accordingly, claims 19-23 are withdrawn from consideration as being directed to a non-elected invention. See 37 CFR 1.142(b) and MPEP § 821.03.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

5. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- (e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

6. Claims 11 and 17-18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent 6,748,254 to O'Neil et al. (O'Neil). O'Neil teaches an emitter 11, a detector 7, a probe housing that includes layers 1 and 3 and a first positioning member in the form of a tab, protruding lenses 4, a protruding optical barrier 6, and an attachment mechanism in the form of layers 8-10. (Fig. 1 of O'Neil).

7. Claim 11 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent 5,830,137 to Scharf. Scharf teaches an optical probe that includes emitters 13b and 15b; a detector 26; a probe housing 82 with a first positioning member 96; a protruding optical barrier 90; and an attachment mechanism in the form of a strap that mates with first positioning member. (Fig. 3 and column 9, lines 18-41 of Scharf). Scharf teaches that face pieces 16, 18, and 91 are shaped to form lenses. (column 8, lines 59-62 of Scharf).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 9. Claims 12-16 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over U.S. Patent 5,830,137 to Scharf in view of Patent 4,802,485 to Bowers et al. (Bowers). Scharf teaches a strap, which mates with a first positioning member. (Fig. 3 and column

Art Unit: 3736

9, lines 18-41 of Scharf). Scharf further teaches that the device is used on the forehead. (Abstract of Scharf). Scharf does not teach the particulars of the strap for the forehead. Bowers teaches a headband (Fig. 3 of Bowers) that would fulfill the requirements of providing a strap for the forehead as set forth by Scharf and ensure that the sensor is placed against the forehead. (column 4, lines 28-39 of Bowers).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use the headband of Bowers in the invention of Scharf since Scharf teaches the use of a strap to be used on the forehead and Bowers teaches one such band and the headband of Bowers ensures that the sensor is placed against the forehead. In regard to claim 12, the combination teaches a biasing member 52. (Fig. 3 of Bowers). In regard to claim 14, attachment device 40 is a headband. In regard to claims 15-16, ruler-like indicia are disclosed (reference number 44 in Fig. 3 of Bowers).

Response to Arguments

10. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 11-18 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

11. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
